Miscellaneous.

FROM THE OLD WORLD.

PARIS, June 15th, 1866.

SIR—The game is up. The Bund of Frankfort has voted, by a majority of nine votes against six, the federal execution against Prussia demanded by Austria on the 11th instant.

Prussia, on her side, has formally declared that she would consider all as enemies that should take part with Austria.

So the word of command will now be march on to the slaughter—sound the trumpet of war—wives and mothers prepare your mourning—all for the greater glory of Bismark, the abhorred.

But let the good be comforted; there is a justice superior to that of man—the crimes of the Prussian government will not remain unpunished.

CLEVERNESS OF AUSTRIA.

The ability shown by the Viennese cabinet in the present situation has been very great. It has shown infinite art and patience in its treaties, as you will see. It has succeeded in gaining over all the German confederation, and in forcing the cabinet of the Tuilleries to assume a reserved and most friendly attitude—all this Austria has done within fifteen days.

I think I need not recall to your memory that on the 1st inst. Austria gave up all its rights in the Duchy of of Holstein in favor of the German Bund at Frankfort on the Main, and that it had further convogued the States of Holstein at Itzehoe.

Prussia on learning this move of her friendly enemy, declared that the treaties of Gastein and Vienna were thereby violated, and General Manteufel received the order to oppose the meeting of the Holstein estates at Itzehoe even by force of arms.

It was thought that Itzehoe would be the casus belli. An Austrian brigade, commanded by General Von Goblenz, was in possession of Altona and Itzhoe. The question was, would he allow the Prussians to turn him out without firing a shot?

On the 11th of June the Prussians entered Itzehoe, arrested the Austrian commissioners, Lesser, sent the deputies to the right about, and the Austrians stood quietly by and looked on.

The Austrian General did even more. He told his soldiers that as they could be of no more use they might pack up their tranks and follow him out of the country, as he should return home by way of Hanover on the 12th inst. There was not a kaiserlich white coat left in the Duchies.

As the game of Austria was to screen himself behind the Bund, his tactic was a wise one It is now telling, and Prussia will, therefore, be obliged to force not only the Austrian army, which is formidable, but Bavaria, Saxony, Hanover, and all the secondary States, who will know that victory for Bismark will be the usurpation of all Germany by Bismark.

THE POSITION OF THE PRUSSIAN GOVERNMENT,

Which was really excellent two months ago, is considerably changed. Not only is public opinion in Europe against Count Bismark, but he will not be able to reckon on the Prussians. The Democratic party, which a few months ago committed the fault of backing the violent policy of the haughty Premier, have now found out their mistake. Hundreds of petitions have been sent to the King, praying he will maintain peace. Almost every day the troops are called out to repress the mobs which clam or for work.

It is certain that the Kammer, or Chamber of Deputies, which is shortly to be elected, is still more hostile than the preceding one to the policy of Bismark, and we should never be surprised to hear that a revolution has taken place in Berlin, and that both the Premier and all the pack of Hohenzollern have been sent to the right about.

It cannot be doubted that when the first shot has been fired, German patriotism will show itself in all its glory. But

WHAT WILL FRANCE DO?

To this question, which has been in everybody's mouth for the last six weeks, an answer was given on the 12th inst., by the Sphynx of the Tuileries, in a letter written to the Minister of State, Monsieur Rouher, and which was read in the Corps Legislatif, or Legislative body, to thunders of applause.

THE IMPERIAL MESSAGE

Is as usual a riddle, and is in no way binding comme tonjours. He says to M. Drouyn de Lhuys, "if the conference had been held, you were to have declared in my name that I rejected all idea of territorial aggrandizement as long as the balance of power in Europe should remain unbroken."

The message of the Emperor, which our papers will bring you in extenso, though of a pacific character, does not promise that France will not enter the lists, should the work begun in Italy be in any way interrupted:—The Imperial speech may be called pacifico — bellicose, as we say in France—in chair in poisson, insitie fique, insitie-raisin.

THE CORPS LEGISLATIF,

As I said before, received the Imperial message with much applause, and was disinclined to have the present question debated. Therefore both M. Farne and Mons. Thiers were coughed down when they tried to say a few words about the matters most interesting to the country at the present moment.

WAR POPULAR IN AUSTRIA AND ITALY.

A war which is feared in Prussia, Prande and England, is however seen with delight in Austria and Italy. In Vienna, vengeance to Prussia is vowed from the palace to the hovel. In Florence, the cry is Morto al Tedeseo—Death to the Germad. The Italians are prepared to meet every sacrifice to get rid of the stranger and the priest. The reactionary party and the Bourbons are taking advantage of the movement to raise their heads.

The Italian Government is taking the most vigorous measures to crush the partizans of the fallen house, and almost recalls the reign of terror in France. The dungeons are full of prisoners, and even the convents and barracks are turned into prisons for conspirators.

Garibaldi has, at last, left his Island of Caprera. He is now organizing his bands of volunteers and it would seem as if he intended attacking Austria in the Tyrol. We shall therefore soon see the HORRORS OF WAR.

The cholera is in the south of Spain, at Nantes and at Rotterdam, where it seems to resist all the efforts of the medical men.

Advices from Italy inform us that much fever reigns amongst the troops now on the borders of the Po.

AN IMPORTANT ARREST

took place a few days ago, at one of the Paris railway stations, of a man who was found to be carrying several detonatory balls in his overcoat pocket similar to those made use of by Orsini. This is whispered, but seems to be a canard.

It was yesterday reported that the Emperor Maximilian had decided upon throwing up the Imperial crown of Mexico, but we are as yet without confirmation of the same. Mexican bonds are now 137; they were issued at 349.

THE UNIVERSAL EXHIBITION

will take place with or without war. The knowing ones affirm that should it break out, it will not last long—unless indeed the Czar should wish to put his finger in the pie.

PARIS AMUSEMENTS.

As you see by the papers, there is no very great desire to take pleasure of any kind with the sword of Damocles hanging over our heads.

GRAND FETE AT THE ELYSEES.

There were great doings a few days ago at the Elysee Bourbon, which has just been restored on a grand scale as a residence for the Prince Imperial.

The Emperor gave a splendid fete to the Grand Duchess Mary of Russia, who is related to him. All Paris is talking of the fairy-like appearance of the gardens lit up by the electric light, which sent its rays through the branches of the beautiful trees which used to shade the first Emperor while taking his coffee.

Rossi, the great Italian tragedian, is still with us. He has made quite a sensation in Ameleto (Hamlet) and other Shaksperian pearls. He will shortly leave us for a tour in England and the United States.

Poor Batty, who was the other day bit by the lion, is still suffering from the wound inflicted on him.

P. S.—When on the point of closing my letter, I have received a private dispatch, which has not yet been communicated. This dispatch announces that the Prussians, without paying any more attention to the Diet, have entered into Saxony and occupy militarily certain defiles difficult to drive an enemy out of. Those who are competent in military matters assert that after three battles the Austrians may be masters of Berlin.

A REMARKABLE CASE.—Hydrophobia is usually inferred to be communicated from the saliva secreted from the glands at the root of the teeth of a rabid dog. There was a young man at Manayunk who died on Sunday with very violent symptoms of hydrophobia, who had been inoculated with the disease from the bite of a cat. He was an apprentice to a blacksmith, whose shop is at Front and Morris streets. There was a cat in the shop when he went to open it some three weeks ago. The cat sprang at him and made her teeth meet in his leg. The wound healed, and the poor boy had almost forgotten the occurrence. On Saturday, at the sight of water, he was seized with spasms. He suffered unutterable agony until Sunday noon, when death mercifully gave him a release.—Philadelphia American.

THE Carlisle Herald is responsible for the following: Mr. John Hefflefinger was elected Superintendent of our common schools in this county because he was a good Democrat.—Last week he appeared before the State Superintendent to be examined as to his fitness for the position. We have been informed that according to his geography West Point is situated in Kentucky, and according to his history General Jackson fought the battle of New Orleans during the Mexican war. Of course, Superintendent Coburn refused to issue the commission to him.

How Soldiers Speak When They are Asked for an Opinion.

The soldiers of Greene county met in Convention in Waynesburg, on the 23d ult., for the purpose of giving expression to their views in men and "policies." The Greene county Republican describes the spectacle of the meeting as being one of unusual interest from the fact that a knot of Copperheads attempted to control the proceedings and give them a tone of approval of Copperheadism, adherence to the recreant President, and support of the soldiers' slanderer, Clymer. This failed. The soldiers drove the Cops from the court house, and then, after hearing several patriotic speeches, adopted the following emphatic preamble and resolutions:

WHEREAS, This is a Convention of soldiers, called together to "endorse our President, Andrew Johnson, and annul the action of a few (!) soldiers of this county, who sent delegates that misrepresented it as a disunion (!) Convention at Pittsburg, on the 5th of June last;" therefore,

Resolved, That we most heartily approve of the late Amendments to our Constitution, submitted by joint resolution of both houses of Congress to the several States for their approval, so that in the language of our President—"while society is in this disordered state and we are seeking security, let us fix the foundations of the Government on the principles of eternal justice, which will endure for all time."

Resolved, That in the language of our President—"only loyal men shall rule the Republic, and traitors should take a back seat. We want not those who brought all this misery upon us to control our destinies, that all the glorious victories won by our noble armies go for naught and the battle-fields sown with dead bodies made memorable in vain."

Resolved, That in the language of our President—"a traitor has ceased to be a citizen, and in joining the rebellion has become a public enemy. He forfeited his right to vote with loyal men when he renounced his citizenship and sought to destroy our Government. Before these repenting rebels can be trusted they should bring forth fruits of repentance."

Resolved, That we are truly sorry [illegible] of Copperheads, in preference to Gen. John W. Geary, the "Hero of Wauhatchie," and that we "vote as we shot."

Resolved, That we endorse the proceedings of the Soldiers' Convention held in Waynesburg, on the 2d of June, 1866, and that we ratify the resolutions passed at the Union State Convention held by the "National Union of the Boys in Blue," at Pittsburg on the 5th inst.

Resolved, That we have no respect for a soldier whose conscience will not permit him to sit in convention with citizen soldiers irrespective of party.

—There is the right ring in the foregoing resolutions. It is the temper of the soldier frankly expressed. Will the Copperheads continue to claim the boys in blue as supporting Clymer, after such a demonstration?

The Pope's Loan.

The Pope has called for a twenty years' loan, amounting to $12,000,000, at five per cent. interest, payable semi-annually, on the 1st of April and 1st of October. The American portion of this issue amounts to $4,000,000, and the first coupons will fall due April 1st, 1867. The bonds are payable to bearer, are of five hundred francs, or one hundred dollars, (in gold) and the coupons are made payable in Paris, New York, Philadelphia and New Orleans, at the currant rate of exchange. The bonds are offered at sixty-six cents on the dollar in gold, and will yield over seven and a half per cent. interest.—The bonds are neatly executed in Italian on one side and French on the other, and under the seal of the Pope. The agent for America is Mr. Robert Murphy. He is at present in New York making direct appeals to the Catholic clergy of the United States and Canada, and for the few days which he has thus far occupied in bringing this loan before the American public he has been quite successful.

Whatever may be the result of present complications in Europe, it confidently asserted that the Catholics of this country, as well as those of the rest of the world, will freely come to the aid of the Pope.

THE DEMOCRATS use the same amount of vituperation in regard to the Soldiers' Convention which assembled in Pittsburgh on the 6th inst., that they did with regard to giving the soldiers a vote while in the service. It is the same old bile The soldiers have been their deadly enemies whenever they have been at a respectable distance. The Rebels and Democrats agree most singularly.

NOT many years ago the town of Galena, Illinois, contained in a single street, the business signs of six prominent citizens, who have since become emint in the public service. They are—Brigadier General J. A. Maithy, Major General A. L. Cheatlain, Major General John A. Rawlings, the Hon. Elihu A. Washburne, Major General John E. Smith, and Lieutenant General U. S. Grant

Arraignment of Copperheadism.

THE REVIVAL OF AN OLD INCIDENT.

At the Union State Convention of 1865 a resolution was adopted by acclamation declaring that the leaders and candidates of the Democratic alias Copperhead party stood arraigned before the people of Pennsylvania for constantly obstructing the efforts of the Constitutional authorities to maintain the life of the nation. We now repeat the counts in the indictment then preferred, by declaring that the Copperhead leaders did this—

By inflaming the passions of their ignorant followers against the legally elected officers of the Federal Government, and refraining from all reproach against treason or armed traitors.

By procuring a decision from the Democratic judges of our Supreme Courts, denying the right of the Government to the services of the citizens of this State for the defence of the imperilled country

By discouraging men from volunteering into the armies of the Union; thus rendering it necessary to succumb to treason, or to pay large bounties, and so burdening every ward, township and borough in the State with debt to fill the ranks of our armies.

By opposing the enlistment of negroes for our defense, although one white man less was required for every black one who could be enlisted, and this at the very moment when the battle of Gettysburg was raging on the soil of Pennsylvania, and that decisive battle was uncertain.

By denying to our soldiers the right to vote while fighting for the flag of our fathers, on the plea that such rights were not allowed by our Constitution, and by opposing an amendment which removed their objections and relieved our brave soldiers from this disability.

By exaggerating the public indebtedness, denying the public credit, and teaching that the financial resources of the north were unequal to the suppression of the rebellion.

By a shameful opposition to measures for extending relief to the families of Union soldiers, and by a malignant effort by these means to secure the success of the rebels in the field, or such a protraction of the war as would exhaust the nation in its effort to subdue their friends.

By [illegible] heaping abuse upon the [illegible] the release of leading traitors, by frowning down all attempts to bring to punishment the fiends who starved our soldiers, and by assuring rebels that neither in person or property shall they be punished for their crimes.

And if anything were wanting to complete their infamy, we have it in their determined opposition to free labor, and to a tariff which, while it would make labor profitable by protecting the working-men of Pennsylvania from British competition, would largely increase the revenue essential to the maintenance of the public faith and credit.

Let this indictment be kept before the people of our State. Its truths are as strong to-day as they were a year ago, and in their name we can again win a great victory.

An Editor Sold.

It is said that editors have a peculiar way of prying into other people's business, and we are compelled to confess to a sell. While in Chicago, we had a desire to see Joliet, and got on the cars for that purpose. Passing through the middle car we could see no vacant seat, and were obliged to put up with a part of one, with a fellow passenger near the stove. He was apparently about thirty years of age, and had a large soldiers blanket thrown over his shoulders. On the opposite side sat a stout, robust fellow, with dark hair, and quick, intelligent eyes, who turned them upon us for a moment, and seemed to read our very thoughts, then sunk back upon his seat, and forgot the past and future in what appeared to be a sound sleep We then turned to our neighbor and asked how far he was going down the road. He replied:

"To Joliet."

"Have you any friends there?"

"No; but I have some strong recommendation from a prominent man in Chicago."

"Ah!" we exclaimed; "from whom?"

"Recorder Van Buren."

"Indeed! glad to hear it," we continued "Wishing to find some friends at Joliet, you, perhaps, will be of service."

"Anything I can do for you, I will," he replied, with a quiet smile. We did not like that smile.

"How long do you intend to remain at Joliet?" we nervously asked.

"Well, the recorder, taking, it to consideration my youth, sent me for two years and a half to learn the lapidary's trade, and as you are one of those prying Yankees, poking your nose into everybody's business, and if you had got your just deserts you would have been there long ago."

The sheriff woke from feigned sleep and burst into a roar of laughter, in which he was joined by the other passengers. We arose from our sitting posture, cast one bewildered gaze on the funny criminal, then at the roaring passengers, and, like a sweet [illegible]elle(?) vanished from the scene.

The Good Old Times in England.

A pretty young girl, dwelling with her widowed mother near the village of Wycombe, loved and was beloved by a young farmer, whose croft adjoined her mother's little field. The young and happy pair looked forward to the wedlock at no distant date, when, one evil day—a day, too, of sudden storm and rain—there came to the mother's door a wealthy suitor, who placed his money bags and station in rivalry against the youth and manly beauty of the favored swain. 'Twas Justice Parr, an aged and unrighteous Boaz, who had seen this Ruth gleaning in his wheatfield, and resolved to win her for his wife.

The mother, tempted by the golden prospect, sent the old man to her daughter, who with simple earnestness told him the story of her love for the young farmer, and besought him to think of her no more. This would have melted many a heart; it hardened his; and pondering in his wicked brain he hatched a scheme of revenge. Half hints of witchcraft in the town turning adrift so cunningly upon the breeze of gossip, that none knew whence they came, began to make the timid pale.

A child fell ill with a pining disease, and the maiden was known to have sat long hours by the bed of the flushed and tossing sufferer, soothing its fever and cooling its dry lips with a grateful acid. This alone was ground for suspicion; for most childish ailments were then ignorantly ascribed to witchcraft. Suspicion became certainty when a witch-finder—not the infamous Hopkins, who flourished a year or two later, but a wretch of similar kind, brought to the village and fed with a good round sum by the relentless justice—discovered in the damsel indubitable marks of witchcraft.

He said there was something superhuman in her beauty. (Had she been a hag of eighty he would have drawn the same conclusion from her ugliness.) She had a mole on the left cheek. Her mother kept a cat, which was known to wander abroad at night. Upon these and equally miserable pretexts, the poor girl was seized and carried, shrieking, to the Witch Lake, that she might there undergo the usual ordeal. With her thumbs and great toes tied together, she was taken in a boat to the centre of a pool, and flung pitilessly in.

A splash—a shriek or two, quenched in bubbling spasms, a troubling of the water—and then all was still. Her innocence was proved; but at what price. Next day the white garments and whiter face of the dead girl floated up amid the water lillies, in whose trailing stalks her wet black hair was all entwined. The cords were loose—snapped in the struggle; but alas! too late!

The equity of tragic sequence would seem to demand the instant death of Parr at her furious lover's hands; but—ah! for the weakness of humanity enthralled by superstition—that very lover, convinced of her guilt by the unanswerable reasoning of the witch-finder, stood among the crowd that saw her committed to the lake, and thanked Heaven for having delivered him from wedlock with a sorceress.

The Ratification.

Counting all, their are thirty-six States in the Union, and the concurrence of twenty-seven of them in the new Constitutional Amendment will be requisite to its due ratification.—Twenty-one will doubtless ratify as soon as opportunity shall be offered. These are, California, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nevada, New Hampshire, Missouri, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, West Virginia, Wisconsin. New Jersey did not ratify the Anti-Slavery Amendment until her vote was no longer necessary; and her present attitude is one of doubt. Of the other States a reasonable dependence may be placed on, Arkansas, Maryland, North Carolina and Tennessee. This will make twenty-five. If New Jersey and Delaware can be added to these, the full number will be obtained.—Pittsburg Gazette.

NO REPTILES IN NEWFOUNDLAND.—As a natural and somewhat curious feature, it is mentioned that the island of Newfoundland, though abounding in game, is not infested with reptiles. Captain Charles Chearlney writes: In Newfoundland there is not a snake, toad, frog or reptile of any sort.—There is not a squirrel on the Island, no porcupine, moose or minx; whereas, with the exception of the porcupine wanting in Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, all these creatures are to und in the neighboring provinces. The Arctic hare is found here in Newfoundland, but neither in Cape Breton or Nova Scotia." One Captain Hardy calls attention to other deficiencies. He visited the island in midsummer, and could not help remarking the fact that fireflies were not to be seen here, while in Nova Scotia they swarmed by thousands, their scintillations adding beauty to the pall of quiet night. The island is full of bogs and swamps, which render it very difficult to account for the total absence of reptiles.

Strange Revelations.

Col. J. H. Blood, of the Sixth Missouri Infantry, whose character was without reproach, at the close of his three years' service, was elected City Auditor of St. Louis and also President of the St. Louis Railroad Company. He was regarded as an excellent business man and had acquired a fortune of some $80,000. When the spiritualists began to inculcate their strange and fascinating doctrines in the city, Col. Blood early became a convert, and became President of the Spiritualists in St. Louis. Some time ago he became acquainted with Madam Holland, a clairvoyant, who professed to effect wonderful cures of disease pertaining to women. The wife of Col. Blood, a Massachusetts lady, was an invalid and he took her to Madam Holland for medical treatment.

Some time after this visit to the witch of Washington avenue, Colonel Blood's friends became uneasy on account of his frequent visits to the siren, and remonstrated with him about his extravagant gifts of money to her. They represented that the woman was of bad character, whose only object was to draw money from him; but he insisted that she was a good woman, and promised to retrench his lavish expenditures. He readily admitted that his conduct, as a husband, was very wrong, and frequently promised to reform, but the moment he came into the presence of the enchantress, he seemed to have no will of his own, and yielded to her commands like a slave or a child. His wife returned from a visit to the east last summer, and hearing of the conduct of her husband, called on Madam Holland to persuade her to break off her connection with her husband. The shameless woman informed the virtuous wife that she had a claim upon her husband as his wife, and satisfied her that she was actually married to him!

Upon making this discovery, Mrs. Blood refused to live with her husband, and prepared to take the necessary steps for obtaining a divorce. Her friends dissuaded her, hoping that matters might be reconciled. They succeeded in inducing the madam to leave the city, but not until she had bankrupted her victim, and blasted the happiness of a virtuous wife forever. She was a very cormorant, and continually demanded money She sometimes received as much as $6,000 at a time, and was still unsatisfied.

Col. Blood also became acquainted [illegible] wizard from Brooklyn, and ried to him.

On account of these irregularities Colonel Blood lost his position as President of the Railroad Company. The clairvoyant held the marriage certificate in terrorem over his head, and the fate of a bigamist stared him in the face. There was no hope for him to redeem his squandered fortune, for if he escaped the Scylla of Brooklyn, he would be sure to be wrecked on the Charybdis of Washington avenue. He therefore concluded that the only course left for him was to leave the country, and start anew in South America. Accordingly he procured from the Mayor a leave of absence for twenty days, and on Monday last left the city He left his resignation in the hands of a friend, to be handed in after a certain time.

His account as Auditor is all correct. All the money he squandered was his own.

HERE is the story of Prince Christian's courtship. Prince Christian is the youth who is to marry Princess Helena on July 5th. Queen Victoria, at the inauguration of a statue to the Prince Consort, saw a gentleman wiping his eyes and looking very much affected, and asked who he was. It proved to be Prince Christian of Schleswig-Holstein. From that hour the Queen took the almost unknown, unnoticed, and penniless young Prince into favor, and finally bestowed upon him the hand of her daughter. Not, however, without the heart's consent of the young Princess herself, who shares her mother's enthusiastic admiration for this tender-hearted Prince, who, like some hero of a fairy tale, won a royal bride by an appropriately dropped tear.

GOVERNOR CURTIN has appointed Col. Samuel B. Thomas to the position of State Historian, in accordance with the act of Assembly of 1865, authorizing the appointment and appropriating five thousand dollars to the work of collecting and writing a complete history of the Pennsylvania Regiments in the service of the United States during the Rebellion. Col. Thomas is eminently adapted to the performance of this work, and his selection will give general satisfaction.

THE President has pardoned A. T. Bledsoe, who for about ten months in the early part of the rebellion occupied the position of Assistant Secretary of War in the late Confederate Government.

'I do not say,' remarked Mr. Brown, 'that Jones is a thief; but I do say that if his farm joined mine, I would not try to keep sheep.'

As this is our second connection with the Argus, in an editorial capacity, we shall not again bore our readers with a labored salutatory; but, on the contrary, after gratefully thanking our worthy predecessors for their flattering notice of ourself, we at once enter upon the duties of our position. J. W.

"Negro Suffrage."

We learn that a few evenings ago E. P. Kuhn, Esq., made a speech to a Democratic audience in Industry; and that in his opening remarks he asserted that "there was but one question before the people, and that one was negro suffrage." As he had but one question therefore to operate upon, it is to be hoped that he discussed and ventillated that one thoroughly.

Our acquaintance with Mr. Kuhn is quite limited, but we believe he enjoys the reputation of being a clever man, a tolerable lawyer, a successful oil developer, and a "tip-top" financier; but, to our mind, he has evidently been indulging in a Rin Van Winkle sleep, in a political sense. Presuming this much, at least, "negro suffrage" comes to be a question before the people at the present time! We hope to hear from him with as little delay as possible.

THE Local of June 22, in speaking of a soldiers gathering, called to meet in the Court House, a few evenings before, made use of this language:

"The meeting was a complete failure. The veterans were in attendance at the Democratic primary meeting. The soldiers of Beaver county are with President Johnson in sentiment, and opposed to the negro-equality, Union destroying principles of the Thad. Stevens party."

The Local has repeatedly asserted, of late, that the "true soldiers" of Beaver county were Democrats, and that they were going to support the Democratic ticket. Now, we suppose that perishing upon the field of battle, or bearing upon the person the "scars of conflict," is trustworthy evidence of "true" soldierly qualities.—This being the standard then, we hold ourself in readiness, whenever the Local publishes the names of three Democratic soldiers from this county, who fell at the front, either killed or wounded, to publish the names of FIVE such, who did not then, do not now, and probably never will vote or act with that party. So much on the subject of grit; and as the Local has placed itself upon a "tripping up" platform, it is to be hoped that its editor will "trot out" his battalions immediately, so that the "audience" may see whether he or ourself gets "tripped up" on this proposition of his own making.

But we will try him on another point: There is soon to be a thin, sickly convention of soldiers at Harrisburg, to endorse the nomination of Clymer, for Governor. The Local, we presume, will by and by issue a call for a soldiers' meeting in the Court House, to select delegates to attend it. Now, if the Local will use its influence to have that call made broad enough to embrace all honorably discharged soldiers of the county, and invite them to attend the meeting and participate in its proceedings, we will venture the assertion that the delegates will be instructed three to one to vote for General Geary for Governor, instead of Hiester Clymer. It is said that "the proof of the pudding is in chewing the bag," and we challenge the Local to try the soldiers of this county on the question as we have here presented it.

The Constitutional Amendment.

In the Argus of a few weeks ago was published the proposed Constitutional amendment as it passed the Senate. Since then it has also passed the House of Representatives, and has been transmitted by the Secretary of State to the several State Legislatures. The amendment, as it is now before these bodies, or will shortly be, is as follows:

Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, two-thirds of both Houses concurring, that the following article be proposed to the Legislatures of the several States as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which, when ratified by three-fourths of the Legislatures, shall be valid as part of the Constitution, namely:

ARTICLE FIFTY.

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and the States wherein they reside.—No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property, without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Section 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons, excluding Indians not taxed. But whenever the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice President, representatives in Congress, executive and judicial officers or members of the legislatures thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State, being twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall be as to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Section 3. That no person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the laws, or given aid and comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disabilities.

Section 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection and rebellion, will not be questioned, but neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation, incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave, but all such debts, obligations and claims shall be held illegal and void.

On this proposed amendment every Union Senator and Representative in Congress voted aye; while every Democratic Senator and Representative in Congress voted nay. It is fair to say, then, that the Union party stands fairly in favor of the measure; and it is equally fair to say that the Democratic party stands squarely opposed to it. This being the case, let the people, at the October election, and afterwards see exactly what position the Democratic party has taken upon the several questions involved in it. The first section provides that it shall be a part of the supreme law of the land that all persons, native or naturalized, white or colored, shall be equal before the law; that is, that no person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process, &c. The second section prescribes that all male persons, free of crime, over twenty-one years of age, who are not allowed to vote, shall be excluded from the number comprising the basis of representation. The third specifies that all persons who, prior to the rebellion, had taken an oath to support the Constitution, and afterwards participated in the insurrection, shall not be competent to fill any public office. The fourth guaranties the payment of the Federal, and bars the assumption of the Rebel debt.

It will thus be seen that the Democratic members of Congress have put themselves upon the record, and thus committed the whole party to the policy that all persons are not equal in matters of civil rights—that some persons may be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law; that there shall not be a voting restriction in the basis of representation; that treason shall not be made odious, and that leading traitors shall not suffer even political punishment, though they did at one time take an oath to support the Constitution and then violated that solemn obligation in an attempt to overthrow it; that the validity of the public debt may be questioned, and that bounties to veteran soldiers and pensions to wounded heroes may or may not be paid, as it may suit the whims or caprice of the Copperhead party, if it should ever be in a position to affect the question; that it would be wrong to so amend the Federal Constitution as to prohibit either the United States or any particular State from ever assuming to pay either the rebel war debt, or claims arising from the loss of slaves by those who were engaged in the effort to destroy the Government.

These are the questions at issue between the two political parties on the subject of reconstruction, and these are the positions of these parties respectively upon them. It is the old story over again. One party is loyal; the other disloyal. One awards impartial justice to all; the other denies it. One is in favor of punishing traitors, the other opposed to it. One is in favor of making treason odious; the other is in favor of making it respectable. One is in favor of making our public debt a part of, and as sacred as the Constitution itself; the other wishes it so left that when they come into power they may repudiate it altogether. The one is in favor of burying the rebel debt beyond the sight of man; the other wishes it placed on file with an ulterior purpose at some time or other of paying the whole, or at least a part of it. Loyal men can therefore very readily make up their minds as to how and for whom to vote.

A Word to Soldiers.

A studied attempt is just now being made throughout this State to impose upon soldiers. Copperhead organs, copperhead orators and copperhead "button-holers" are endeavoring in the present campaign, to make the "boys in blue" believe that Hiester Clymer and his party associates were, during the rebellion, their warmest friends and staunchest supporters. In this county, the same tactics have been adopted, and we presume the programme is to fight the falsehood through on the hypothesis that "a lie well stuck to is as good as truth."—But it will fall short of its purpose; for the record of Clymer and his party will rise up before them, and like Banquo's ghost, it will not down at their bidding. A portion of this record we herewith append, premising at the same time that this is but a trifling installment of Clymer's war antecedents as a whole.—No copperhead in the State has probably a more disgraceful anti-war, anti-soldier record than he; and we are much mistaken in public feeling, if this record of his does not serve him in the same way that Vallandigham's served him, when a candidate for the same office before the people of Ohio—that is, beat him from 50 to 100,000 votes.

The Legislative Record of 1864, page 23, states that on the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania urge upon the Congress of the United States the propriety of increasing the pay of officers and privates of the army and navy; the officers twenty-five and the privates one hundred per cent.

Hiester Clymer voted in the negative. The vote stood 16 to 16—and the resolution was lost. This is to be accounted for on the ground that Mr. Clymer considerd soldiers as "Lincoln Hirelings," and therefore didn't want their pay raised.

[illegible] ate, and Hiester Clymer voted in the negative:

Resolved by the Senate, That the thanks of the loyal people of Pennsylvania are due and are hereby tendered to Gen. U. S. Grant and the officers and soldiers serving under him, for the series of gallant services and glorious victories resulting in the liberation of the faithful Union people of East Tennessee from a military despotism more galling than ever was that of Great Britian.

The vote stood again 16 to 16, and the resolution was lost.

Mobbing a Loyal Newspaper.

The Democrats of York, in this State, having shown the white feather during the war, attempted last week to amend their record by mobbing a loyal journal in that place, and in twenty or thirty of them bantering the editor to "come out and fight" them. Valorous fellows! A whole battallion of them against one man, and he unarmed. These chivalrous Copperheads some time ago endeavored to get up a "Soldier's Clymer Club" in York, and to their call for a meeting they had the names of a number of soldiers who had served honorably in the Union ranks. But alas for those who were instrumental in getting the meeting up! The living soldiers whose names were appended to the call, informed the editor of the loyal paper there that they had never authorized the use of their names in such a connection, that they were not, as alleged, Clymer men, but would vote at the October election for John W. Geary. Nearly all of the other soldiers' names attached to the call belonged to dead heroes, who had perished on the field of battle, and who had all their lives denounced the party that was here fraudulently using their names. For making this exposure and for holding the authors of the forgery up to ridicule, these brave sympathizers with treason made a vigorous charge (the only one that class of men were ever known to make) upon a defenceless and unarmed editor, and knocked his establishment into "pi." Gallant men! It is to be hoped that both law and history will do them ample justice.

THE Local of last week gives us notice that it is going to "trip us up."—Possibly it may be able to accomplish what it desires, but in the meantime we take the liberty of reminding its editor that we have high and ancient authority for saying, that he that putteth the armor on, should not boast like him that taketh it off.

Soldiers' Convention in Greene County.

A few Democratic politicians in Greene county, (one of the counties in this Congressional District) not liking the endorsement of Gen. Geary for Governor, by the Soldiers' State Convention at Pittsburgh, on the 5th of June, got hold of five or six soldiers who belonged to the copperhead party, and prevailed upon them to issue a call for a Soldiers' County Convention, to [illegible] delegates to a meeting at Ha[illegible] to endorse Clymer.—Unfortunately for the success of the enterprise, the call was made broad enough to embrace all honorably discharged soldiers, and as a matter of course many such attended. Hence, when the meeting came to be organized, it was ascertained that about two-thirds of all present were Geary men, and that that meeting would undoubtedly select no delegates to go to Harrisburg but such as were unequivocally in favor of endorsing the hero of Lookout Mountain, and no one else. When this became known to the Democratic politicians of Waynesburg, they induced their few soldier friends to withdraw, and repair to the Treasurer's office, where they finally went through the motion of selecting delegates in favor of Clymer. If soldiers, who are going to vote for Geary, preponderate so largely in Greene county, one of the Democratic strongholds in this State, it is to be presumed that Clymer will catch "particular fits" from soldiers, who live in localities that never had "coppery" reputations.

A Soldier Who Votes as He Shot.

It seems that the clerical force of some of the Departments in Washington are engaged in sending out circulars, asking the co-operation of the soldiers to aid Cowan's scheme to break up the Union party from which the Union army while in the field received the support which enabled it to crush rebellion. The circulars are coupled with the counsel, namely, "if the call for the National Union convention meets with your approval, be good enough to certify it by a brief note, with authority to publish the same." One of these cowardly advertisements originating with Cowan, was sent to Col. J. G. Frick, of Pottsville, Pa, and the following shows how he approves of the plan to disrupt the true National Union party:

POTTSVILLE, Pa., June 28, 1866.

A. W. Randall, Esq.:

DEAR SIR: I herewith return to you your call for a National Convention you were pleased to send me.

I desire to say that I do not train sympathize in the objects of your convention. I fought in this war against traitors, and I do not feel now like ignoring the past and helping Copperheads and Republican traitors to place these same men in power again, where they can make laws for me and crack the whip of slavery over the free people of the North. That day has gone by, and we now live in an enlightened age.

Respectfully, your obd't serv't,
J. G. FRICK,
Late Colonel 129th Penn'a Vols.

"Carried off the Palm."

The Democratic Convention which assembled in this place on the 18th ult., adopted this resolution:

4th. That the assertion of the present dominant party, that the negro soldiers "carried off the palm" is untrue, an insult to the gallant white men engaged in the contest, and we denounce it accordingly. * * *

The mind that conceived that resolution must have labored and agonized fearfully before bringing it forth, for it bears originality and pain upon its face. Who ever heard of its leading idea before? What National, State, or County Convention held by the "dominant party" ever asserted that negro soldiers "carried off the palm?" What Senator, Representative, Governor, Member of Legislature, or even private individual belonging to the dominant party was it that asserted anything of this kind? Echo answers, 'nary one."

Fire on Bennehoff Run—Two Flowing Wells Burned—Twenty Thousand Barrels of Oil Destroyed.

TITUSVILLE, PA., July 8.—A great fire occurred on Bennehoff Run last night. During the thunder storm, the lightning struck the gas pipe in the Western Union Telegraph well, communicating the fire with the tank, which exploded, and the oil ran down the run, communicating fire to several other tanks, which in turn exploded, and caused one of the heaviest conflagrations that the oil regions have ever experienced. We learn that between eighteen and twenty large producing wells were burnt up, including two or three large flowing wells, among which were the Sheridan and Western Union Telegraph wells, both of them large flowing wells.

The Sheridan well had three tanks filled with oil, all of which were destroyed. As far as we can learn, some 20,000 bbls. of oil were destroyed, and some parties estimate it at a much larger figure than this. The oil was a foot deep as it ran down the run to Oil creek. There were also between twenty and thirty derricks destroyed, the wells of which were in various stages of completion. The loss cannot be estimated at present, but is very heavy.

Suicide of Senator Lane.

Jas. H. Lane, United States Senator from Kansas, shot himself at Leavenworth, in that State, on the 1st inst. A special dispatch to the New York Tribune in connection with the sad affair says:

"Jim Lane died of Andy Johnson: He went from here to Kansas, impressed with the delusion that his support of the President was so acceptable to the people of that State, that he could carry it for Johnson a policy by 5,000 majority. His appearance upon the streets of Lawrence shocked him with a sense of his terrible error. In the town where he had once walked a Monarch, no man spoke to him. Old friends passed him without recognition on the sidewalk. On horseback, in the principal street, he rode unrecognized and rejected. He went to his house and sent for many of his old friends to come and see him. They returned answer that they wished to have no intercourse with him. Two days after his arrival Representative Clark came from Washington. What a contrast and what a lesson! A vast crowd met and welcomed him with music and flags. A public meeting applauded his votes, honored him for his fidelity and pledged to him the love and the support of Kansas. Humiliated, smitten with remorse, and utterly desperate, Lane terminated at once his life and his career in Johnson politics."

Later accounts represent Senator Lane as still living, and his friends have some hopes of his recovery.

A Contrast.

During the struggle for National life against the efforts of the traitors of the South to disrupt the Union and destroy the Government, John W. Geary and Hiester Clymer occupied important public positions. Gen. Geary was a soldier in the field, periling his life every day in encounters with rebellion. Before that rebellion was precipitated, Geary had done good service as a soldier in Mexico. In the Mexican and the war to crush rebellion, he fought in SIXTY BATTLES, sixty of the fiercest encounters in which American armies ever engaged. In addition to this, he lost his son in the struggle for the Union!

Now, what did Hiester Clymer do during the war for the Union? He was in public position during all that struggle. He had a place of honor and trust where he was not asked to peril his life. He knew nothing of the dangers of the conflict. During all these four years of war, while Hiester Clymer was a State Senator, HE NEVER SPOKE A WORD OR CAST A VOTE IN AID OF THE GOVERNMENT OR ENCOURAGEMENT OF ITS DEFENDERS. He refused to acknowledge the glory shed on the Government by the victory of our arms. He denied the right most sacred to freedom, the elective franchise to the heroes of the war!

—This is a contrast worthy the sea and soldiers. It shows what Geary and Clymer did during the war.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

Great Fire in Portland.

PORTLAND, ME., July 4—7 P. M.—A terrible fire is raging here, having destroyed Brown's sugar house, and is sweeping through the city before a strong southerly wind.

SECOND DISPATCH.

PORTLAND, 8 A. M.—The fire caught in the building above the sugar house, on commercial street, and has swept northerly through that street into the wooden buildings between Center and Cross streets, consuming everything as it goes. J. B. Brown & Sons lost from $600,000 to $700,000; insured for $300,000. Stapler & Son's machine shop and N. P. Richardson & Co.'s stove foundry are completely destroyed. One steam fire engine has just come from Saco.

LATEST.

PORTLAND, ME., July 5.—The fire has completely swept through the city, destroying everything in its track so completely that the lines of the streets can hardly be traced for a space of one and a half miles long by a quarter of a mile wide. Many buildings, perhaps one hundred and fifty, were blown up to check the flames, but the inhabitants could scarcely do more than flee with their families to the upper part of the city, having such goods as they could carry. The custom house being fire proof escaped, though greatly damaged. The court records are probably destroyed. The splendid city and county building on Congress street, which was nearly fire proof, was considered safe, and it was filled full of furniture by the neighboring residents and then it was swept away with all its contents. Half the city is destroyed, and that half includes nearly all the business portion, except the heavy business houses in Commerce street. All the banks and newspaper offices are burned. But three printing offices are left. All the jewelry establishments, wholesale dry goods stores, several churches, the telegraph offices, nearly all the stationary stores and a number of business places are destroyed. The fire is still raging below Cumberland street, working back to the westward, the wind having changed. Captain Henry Juman has telegraphed for 1,500 tents to accommodate the houseless families.

THE Rochester Union, of the 2d, says: The Reverend Lindsley, who whipped his child to death in Shelby, Orleans county, has fled to Canada to save his life, which he did not deem safe in the neighborhood where he resided. After giving bail in the sum of $10,000, he went to his father's house, and not feeling himself safe, he returned to Albion and offered his living body to the Sheriff for safe keeping, but the Sheriff refused to accept him, and Lindsley took the first train for Canada. Those are the facts in the case.

CONGRESS OUSTED.—The Committee on Elections of the House of Representatives, on Monday last, ousted Hon Alexander Coffroth, of this State, (the Sixteenth District) and awarded the seat to General Koontz, the contestant.

THE Pittsburg Commercial, of Tuesday, says:

John C. Breckenridge, who is residing at Niagara, C. W., will not attend the Philadelphia Convention, but will send his regrets. George N. Sanders has not been heard from yet.

DECLINED A RE-ELECTION.—Hon. B. Gratz Brown, United States Senator from Missouri, has written a letter declining to be a candidate for re-election. He expresses regret that the people of Missouri do not propose to make universal suffrage an issue in the contest pending in Missouri, and says they have been driven to this course partly "by the irresolution and timidity of a congress that feared to do right, although constant in declaring what was right."

The Proposed Southern Union Convention—Gov. Hamilton's Opinion of the Johnson Convention.

Gov. Hamilton of Texas, has drawn up a call for a Convention of Union men throughout the South, to meet at Washington on the first week of September. Signers are being obtained, and letters sent South to invite the co-operation of what Union men there are.

Gov. HAMILTON calls the August Convention, to be held in Philadelphia, another Rebel invasion of the North, to form an alliance with the Democratic party for the reinstatement of the Rebel leaders in their former political power to the utter exclusion of the Union men who have been persecuted, oppressed, and ignored for the last few years.

INSURANCE.—The recent fires in this place have induced quite a number of persons to get their property insured, who have never given the subject but little attention before. "A stitch in time saves nine;" and we urge it upon others who have not yet done so, to call upon Jos. M'Clure, Esq., of this place, who is agent for several first class insurance companies, and have their property insured at once.

A BROKEN DAM.—The dam across Beaver Creek, immediately below the Bridgewater bridge, by some means or other broke a week or ten days ago, thus causing some 60 or 80 feet of it to wash away. The water above it, as a matter of course, went through "kiting," to the serious inconvenience of all manufacturing establishments between that and New Brighton. The dam is owned and controlled by the Canal company, who will no doubt have it repaired at as early a day as possible.

FIRE AT ISLAND RUN.—On Saturday of last week, a fire broke out at the Marshall Well, on Island Run, in this county, and before it could be extinguished everything connected with the works, excepting the tankage, was consumed. Fortunately, however, the fire was here checked. Three men, named Wm. Marshall, John Minisinger and J. Stewart, were severely burned in endeavoring to extinguish the flames. The origin of the fire is unknown.

A FREIGHT STATION DEMANDED.—Every person acquainted in or about Beaver, is well aware that a Freight Station on the Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad, at this place, is a public necessity. At the present time there is neither house nor shelter of any kind in which to store or protect freight from wet weather, at the station above named; and the railroad company not only owes it to the public to provide a suitable house for the reception of freight, &c., but it likewise owes this much to Mr. Johnston, the agent at that place, who, we understand, is much abused because of his inability in some instances to deliver goods in good order that are dropped off on the platform at his station. The only building that the company owns, or has erected there, is for the accommodation of passengers, provision of no kind for freight having ever been made.

THE FOURTH.—Independence day in this place was celebrated, as usual, by the teachers and scholars of the various Sunday schools. Quite a large party of these assembled at the Fair Grounds, where a good time generally was had.

In the evening a Festival for the benefit of the M. E Sabbath School, of Beaver, was held in the Seminary building, which passed off very pleasantly, and at which quite a creditable sum of money was raised for the object contemplated. The net receipts, we believe, exceeded $100.

During the afternoon the "Unknown" Base Ball Club, of Bridgewater, visited the public square, in this place, and interested quite a number of spectators with playing a game of ball.

THE MOWING MATCH.—The mowing contest between A. B. Wolf, Esq., with the McCormick mower, and Mr. Hays with the Buckeye, Jr. machine, came off, as per announcement on the farm of Richey Eakin, Esq., on the 3d inst. Quite a number of spectators were present, and a good deal of interest was manifested as to the result.—About five acres of grass were cut on the occasion, and, taking it all in all, was well done. The Judges decided that it was a "drawn battle"—neither machine winning. In the matter of raising and lowering the fingers of the machine the M'Cormick was pronounced the best, and as to easy running the preference was given the Buckeye, Jr.

THE PIANO FORTE.—It is within the memory of not only the oldest inhabitant, but also of those of a much less mature age, when the piano was so rare and expensive a luxury that none but the very wealthiest people afforded to purchase one. Piano players, too, were as rare as instruments, and seldom were heard any but professional musicians. Since then, how great a change has taken place! The Piano is now, in fact, an indispensable feature in every household, and rarely can one enter a family without finding one or more accomplished performers on this charming instrument. The Chickering Pianos are remarkable for the purity and volume of tone, combined with that sweet singing quality, rivaling the human unaffected by our sudden climatic changes. No Wonder that the great pianist Thalberg said of them "The Chickering instruments are the best that I have ever seen in the United States" Since that time they have made so many improvements in their Pianos, that Gottschalk says of them, "You alone, Messrs. Chickering, having succeeded, as I fully believe, in combining the different elements which have been so long sought after, in a manner which will henceforth make our modern Piano the most complete of musical instruments."—Pitt. Christian Advocate.

THE CELEBRATION AT PHILADELPHIA.—The celebration at Philadelphi on the 4th of July, or rather the return of the Pennsylvania battle-flags on that day, is said by those who were present to have been a grand and imposing affair. The city was crowded, and everything passed off quietly, notwithstanding the enthusiasm of the large crowd assembled.

One of the most interesting features of the day was the presence there of the orphans of soldiers, whom the State is now providing for and educating at several points within the Commonwealth. There are, we believe, between eleven and twelve hundred of these children in the State, and as they were all neatly attired, well dressed and well behaved, their appearance everywhere elicited the wildest applause. The two schools located in this county for the care and education of these children—one under the supervision of Rev. W G. Taylor, at Phillipsburg, and the other under the care of Rev. Weber, of North Sewickly township—were both present at Philadelphia, and their good deportment was observed by many, and alluded to very frequently. Long may these wards of Pennsylvania live, and long may they have an interest in the prayers of all good people.

SHOOTING CRACKERS—A WARNING TO BOYS.—The recent fire at Portland, Maine, which destroyed nearly the half of that large city, is now known to have originated from a boy throwing a shooting cracker into a pile of shavings. This heedlessness or recklessness on his part was the immediate cause of the destruction of millions of dollars worth of property, besides rendering homeless and houseless hundreds of men, women and children.

In Beaver, on the Fourth of July, we noticed that the boys indulged in this species of fun in a very loose manner—scattering fire crackers almost everywhere, and in numerous instances when falling at the feet of ladies, so frightening them that they could hardly speak for moments afterwards. This is manifestly wrong; and boys who must use fire crackers, and who do not know how to do so without endangering property, frightening females or causing teams to run away, should be made to feel a little of the law bearing upon misdemeanors of this character.

MARE STOLEN.—About the middle of last week a fine bay mare, belonging to Dr. McKinney, of this place, was taken from a pasture lot, between here and Vanport. Persons living close by the field in which the mare was confined, say that some time during the night they heard a person or persons trying to catch the animal, but supposing that the Dr wished to use her and had sent some one to bring her up, they paid no further attention to the matter. Since then, there is a rumor current that a mare answering her description was seen passing through New Lisbon a day or two afterwards, with a man upon her back.

COMMITTED TO JAIL.—On Friday last Jas. Morgan, from the vicinity of Shippingport, in this county, was brought before Esq. Imbrie, of this place, on a charge of attempt to rob. He was committed to jail, to await trial at the next term of our Court.

On the same day Nancy Cisco and Priscilla Perry, also from the neighborhood of Shippingport, were brought before D. L. Imbrie, Esq., on a charge of threatening to kill Jane Bryan.—They were sent to jail, where, we apprehend, their combative propensities will soon simmer down to a peaceful state.

THIEVING IN ROCHESTER.—On Thursday night of last week, some burglar or burglars broke into the dwelling house of Mr. Armstrong, in Rochester, and stole a fine watch, fifty-two dollars in money, a small telescope and a silver-plated Castor. During the same night, the Grocery store of Mr. Johnson, in that place, was also broken into, and change and goods to the amount of forty or fifty dollars taken from it.

The burglars have not been arrested, and it is highly probable that they will succeed in escaping detection.

☞ Attention is called to an advertisement in another column of "Swinton's Campaigns of the Army of the Potomac." Mr. Swinton was constantly with the army of which he writes, and his letters to the Eastern papers were so spirited, life-like, and reliable that they attracted marked attention from the veterans who afterwards read them. This volume will be a complete history of the marches, battles, &c., of the Army of the Potomac, and we advise the soldiers, and the friends of that noble organization, to procure a copy of it.

HONOR CONFERRED.—At the Commencement Exercises at Mt. Union College, a short time since, the degree of Master of Arts was conferred upon Rev. James S. Bracken, of this place. Mr. B. is the minister in charge of the M. E. Church of Beaver, and his numerous friends here and elsewhere will be glad to learn that his learning and ability are justly appreciated by an institution of learning so eminent as is the Mt Union College.

RAIN.—We had quite a rain here on Sunday last, which continued up till Monday morning. The ground was thoroughly soaked, and vegetation was again sent on its way rejoicing. The present season, at least within a couple of months past, has been an excellent growing one, and spring crops of all kinds are doing well, and promise a fine yield.

LOCAL POLITICAL NEWS.—During the past week we had a conversation with a prominent intelligent citizen of Darlington township, and he informs us that in that township there is not even a symptom of disaffection in the Union ranks. All Union men in that locality, he says, are united on the reconstruction policy of Congress, as submitted in the proposed constitutional amendment; and in favor of that method of settling our national affairs Darlington township will "roll up" more than its usual majority at the fall election.

In Raccoon township, too, we hear that the Union fires are burning brightly, and that all Republicans and Union Democrats in that vicinity are standing squarely and unitedly upon the questions embodied in the proposed amendment. It is the Union party's platform on the subject of reconstruction, and on it, if we throw the usual amount of labor into the canvass, we can carry this county at the fall election by at least 900 majority.

CONFEREE MEETING.—The Judicial conferees of Washington and Beaver counties met in this place last week, and after a few ballots, the result of each being three for Chamberlin, of this county, and three for Acheson, of Washington county, adjourned to meet at the Monongahela House, in Pittsburg, on the 23d of July. The conferees treated each other with marked courtesy, and nothing was said or done that would have a tendency to in any way distract the Union party, or prevent a satisfactory arrangement being made as to who shall be the Union candidate for President Judge in this district.

DAN RICE'S SHOW.—The celebrated Dan Rice, accompanied by his circus and menagarie, visited this place on Monday last, and exhibited at 1 p. m., and 7 p. m. The country for miles around appeared to be in town on that day, for the main street was literally lined with wagons, men, women and children all day. The menagarie part was said to be medium, while the circus department was unanimously voted the greatest "bore" of the season. From hence "Dan and his mules" went to New Castle, where, all things favorable, he "showed" on Tuesday.

WOOL.—Wm. Orr, Esq., a merchant occupying the room immediately under our office, has this year purchased over 33 000 pounds of wool. The average price per pound paid was about 57 cts. There were others in the town who purchased wool besides Mr. Orr, but we have not learned to what extent they were engaged in the trade.

☞ Persons from this county visiting Pittsburg, with an intention of buying dry goods, would do well to call at the store of Dunlap, Luker & Co., No. 136 Federal Street, Allegheny city. They also keep a fine assortment of carpets, rugs, &c., which they sell at the lowest cash rates. See advertisement in another column.

AN ALARM OF FIRE.—On Tuesday of last week the residence of D. L. Imbrie, Esq., narrowly escaped burning down. The soot in the chimney taking fire, and the sparks from it falling on the roof, kindled a blaze which would very soon have wrapped the whole building in a flame, had it not been discovered in time to prevent it.

Neighborhood News.

The New Castle Journal, of June 30th, says: It is with deep regret we learn that a little son of Mr. David Sample, who resides near West Middlesex, was stung by a locust on the wrist, last week, and died from the effects. The little sufferer lived only two days after he was stung. At the time he was stung he was playing in the yard, and had taken up the locust in his hand. If they are thus poisonous it is a matter of much moment how they are handled.

BRAKESMAN KILLED.—A brakesman on the Erie & Pittsburgh Railroad was killed near Clarksville, on Friday of last week. His name was James Lynch. He was standing on the top of a car, while in motion, and in passing a bridge his head came in contact with it, killing him instantly.

DEATH OF A NOBLE FELLOW.—A boatman named James Shoemaker was drowned in the canal near Greenville, Pa., on Sunday. He had jumped into the canal to save a boy who was drowning, and after rescuing him was taken with cramp before he could get out of the water. He was a resident of Summit township, and had served in the 111th Pennsylvania volunteers during the war.

THE Mercer Dispatch of June 29th, says: Major Graham announces in last week's Press that if the Democratic Convention next Monday gives him the nomination for State Senate, and he should succeed in being elected, he will use his "united" influence in having the tariff on foreign leather abolished. Considering that the State Senate don't deal in this sort of thing, that is cutting it pretty deep.

MARRIED:

On the 3d inst., at the residence of Dr. P. B. Young, Cresline, Ohio, by the Rev. J. P. Lloyd, Dr. WM. W. BARNETT, to Miss NANNIE E. GORMLY, daughter of the late Adam Gormly, Esq., of Beaver, Pa.

On Thursday, June 14th, 1866, at the residence of the bride's mother, in Cedarville, Greene county, O., by the Rev. ANDREW HERRON, D.D., Rev. ROBERT WHITE to Miss MARGARET M. KYLE.

DIED:

On the 27th of June, in New Brighton, Mrs. MARY A. ARBUCKLE, in the 59th year of her age. She leaves a husband and a large family to mourn her loss.

Agricultural.

The Board of Managers of the Beaver County Agricultural Society met at the Court House, on Saturday, June 30th, 1866.

Members present—Messrs. Shrodes, Wolf, Barclay R. H. Wilson, Imbrie, Potter Robt. Potter J. K. M'Guire, Gibson, Todd, Laird and Barclay W. S.

A proposition being tendered by the Local and the Argus to print the List of Premiums and Rules regulating the Fair for sixty dollars each, it was on motion agreed that the publication of the same be given to both papers, provided that they each agree to furnish 250 extra copies of posters and publish the Award of Premiums gratis.

Committee on building house on the Fair Grounds made report. Report received and adopted, and President empowered to close contract for said house with Aaron Moore.

A warrant was on motion granted to Chas. French for $17 50, for labor at last Fair.

Messrs. Hugh M'Guire, A. B. Wolf and Joseph Buchanan were appointed to act as Marshals at the coming Fair.

Resolved, That the following premiums will be offered for trotting and pacing at the next Fair:

1st day—Best trotter, mile heats, best 3 in 5, to go as they please, $100 00. 3 entries to make the race.

2d day—Best pacer, mile heats, best 3 in 5, to go as they please, $100 00 3 entries to make the race.

In both of the above races 20 per cent. entrance fee will be required.

3d day—Mule race, 6 to make the race, $10 00. Slow race, 6 to make the race, $10 00.

Adjourned, to meet Saturday, August 25th, 1866.

WM. S BARCLAY, Sec'y.

Campaigns of the ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

By WILLIAM SWINTON.

The standard history of the Grand army.

The Greatest Work of the War.

Universally endorsed by army officers and the press. The Author says:—

"I design in this volume to record what that Army did and suffered in ten campaigns and two score battles."

"I shall have to celebrate the unswerving loyalty of this army, that oftimes when the bond of military cohesion failed, held it, unshaken of fortune, to a duty self-imposed."

"I shall have to follow it through a checkered experience, in a tale commingled of great misfortunes, great follies and great glories; but from first to last it will appear that, amid many buffets of fortune, through "winter and rough weather," the Army of the Potomac never gave up, but made a good fight, and finally reached the goal."

The Army and Navy Journal says:—

This is the only American critical work on the late war, and it is thoroughly critical and entirely divested of all political hue or tone."

This is the only History of the "Grand Army," and no one who has borne a part in its conflicts, or is interested in its grand achievements, should be without it.

This work sells itself. The people are tired of political and partisan histories, and want something from official sources. We have Agents clearing over $200 per month. Send for circulars; and see our terms and proof of the above assertion. Address

CHICKERING & SONS'

PIANO FORTES.

THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE FIRM. The celebrated Manufactory of Pianos was founded in Boston, in 1823, by the late Jonas Chickering, whose mechanical skill, practical ingenuity and untiring industry soon placed him as the foremost Piano maker in this country, and his instruments far beyond those of his competitors. His name is inseparably connected with the history of the progress of the Piano, on account of the many valuable improvements introduced, the perfection of his manufacture and the vast quantity of his production.

THE PRESENT FIRM consists of the Sons of Jonas Chickering, who assumed the management of business on his decease in 1853.—They are all practical piano-makers, each one having served at the work bench and learned every part of the manufacture of Pianos.—Their skill, enterprise and ambition has enabled them not only to sustain the unrivaled reputation they inherited, but to greatly increase it. No efforts have been left untried by Chickering Sons to further perfect their instruments, experiments and changes have been made without number, until they have attained their present surpassing excellence.

The late improvements made by Chickering & Sons, within the last two years, have been of the most marked character, by which a great volume and purity of tone is obtained, combined with sweet singing quality rivaling the human voice. By recent improvements in the "action," the touch is rendered more elastic and prompt, so that rapid, difficult music can be performed with the greatest facility without fatigue.

The Facilities for the Manufacturing possessed by Chickering & Sons, are unequalled. Their Factory is larger than any Piano Factory in America by nearly one third, and more than double as large as any in Europe. It is provided with every kind of labor-saving machinery (much of which is peculiar to the Factory, being the invention of the Messrs. Chickering themselves,) by which the work is done better and with more uniformity than by hand. The great extent of the drying rooms enables them to always have on hand a large supply of properly seasoned wood, which is absolutely necessary for the production of a durable instrument. By these means a regular excellence is attained in the Chickering Pianos.

The merits of the new Pianos are so great and so apparent that they have gained the approval of the best artists of the country and caused them to be sought after more than ever by the public.

The Chickering Pianos are Undeniably the Most Perfect Pianos Made.

Every Instrument warranted for five years.

The subscribers are the authorized exclusive agents for Chickering & Sons, for Pittsburg, Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio, and West Virginia, and by special arrangement are enabled to sell their Pianos at exactly the SAME PRICE AS AT THE FACTORY, at Boston, thus saving purchasers the cost of transportation and risk.

A choice assortment always to be found at this Agency.

The Valiant and Brave Hearted, the Picturesque and Dramatic, the Witty and Marvellous, the Tender and Pathetic. The Roll of Fame and Story, Camp, Picket, Spy, Scout, Bivouac, and Siege; Startling Surprises; Wonderful Escapes. Famous Words and Deeds of Woman, and the whole Panorama of the War are here thrillingly and startlingly portrayed in a masterly manner, at once historical and romantic, rendering it the most ample, brilliant and readable book that the war has called forth.

Disabled officers and soldiers, teachers, energetic young men, and all in want of profitable employment, will find this the best chance to make money ever yet offered. Send for circulars and see our terms. Address

"Use the Best"

DR. CLOCK'S

EXCELSIOR HAIR RESTORER IS THE best ever offered to the public and the only one possessing all the merits claimed for it. It restores gray hair to its original color, makes hair grow on bald heads when falling off from disease; removes Scruff, Dandruff, etc.; prevents its falling off or turning gray; cures sick headache and all diseases of the scalp; causes the wiry hair to become soft, pliable and luxuriantly glossy. It is elegantly perfumed, and is that can be desired for a dressing. It contains no sugar of lead or other mineral poison one to the head and hair, and of which many preparations now in use are composed, but is a purely vegetable compound. We CHALLENGE THE WORLD to produce an instance where the Restorer has failed when used according to directions. Among the thousands who have used it we have yet to learn of one who is not perfectly satisfied with its results. Hair which is snow is with marvelous rapidity restored to all its pristine beauty by its use. It is not a dye, but by supplying the secretions of the capillary glands acts as a restorer. Mothers, whose children's hair is harsh, wiry, or thin and scant, will find by using the Restorer it will immediately improve and may be dressed in any desired form, thus laying the foundation for a good head of hair, so desirable in after life. The proprietor is aware of the many who have been disappointed by the high sounding pretense of the numerous preparations with which the market has been filled for a few years past, but such entire confidence does he place in the merits of his Restorer that he offers, in all cases, to refund the money if, after a thorough trial of two bottles, it fails to give perfect satisfaction. A single trial will convince the most skeptical of its merits. Put up in Large bottles and sold by all druggists at $1 a bottle.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

Dr. Duponco's

Golden Periodical Pills,

FOR FEMALES.

Infallible in Correcting Irregularties, Removing Obstructions of the Monthly Turns, from Whatever Cause, and

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL AS A PREVENTIVE.

It is now over thirty years since the above celebrated Pills were first discovered by Dr. DUPONCO, of Paris, during which time they have been extensively and successfully used in most of the public institutions, as well as in private practice, of both hemispheres, with unparalleled success in every case, and it is only at the "urgent request" of the husbands of Ladies who have used them, that they are induced to make the Pills public for the alleviation of those suffering from any Irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent an increase of family, where health will not permit it. Females peculiarly situated, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while in that condition, as the proprietor assumes no responsibilities after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health, otherwise the Pills are recommended.

Price $1,00 per Box. Six Boxes $5,00.

Sold by S. Smith, Bridgewater, Noble & Hamilton, Beaver, S. Hamon, Rochester.

Ladies! By sending $1,00 to either of the above agents, can have the pills sent (confidentially) by mail, to any part of the country, or address the Proprietor,
